

CRY FOR HELP!

It is not a reflection on our business ability to call upon our friends. We feel justified, inasmuch as our creditors are pushing us, and we MUST HAVE MONEY. Our stock to-day is as large as it should be at the beginning of the season, and in order to turn it into money we must offer inducements and we are going to do it.

WE NEED AND MUST HAVE MONEY!

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

J. B. Haggin's California Principality, Where He Raises Flyers For the Turf.

Rancho Del Paso Said to be the Largest Breeding Establishment in the World

Conditions of Entering Horses for the "Jack Pot Stake"—Two-Year-Old Racing in America.

The great estate in California devoted to the breeding and raising of horses by J. B. Haggin is a wonder in its way, and is probably destined to soon rank with Palo Alto, the thoroughbred department it now has, but one rival in the number of brood mares, Milton Young probably having a many at McGrathiana, while in the matter of stallions of approved strains of blood it has no rival. The trotting department has not been established long enough to permit of sales of young stock, but it is on an extensive scale and is bound to become noted ere long. Of the great ranch the San Francisco Breeder and Sportsman says: "The small principality owned by J. B. Haggin, Esq., in Sacramento county, this state, is without doubt the largest breeding establishment in the world, and for two years the buyers of the east have each season vied with each other to secure possession of the finest lot of yearlings ever seen in one collection was examined. The time at command was too short to allow of a critical examination of each individual, but it can be safely said that the consignments of the last two years are far surpassed by the hundred or more youngsters which will be sent on this year. The weather was of the worst, but Superintendent Mackey turned out with his accustomed good nature and we were enabled to take a peep at nearly all of the stock. Since our return we have been asked many times 'What did you fancy most among the youngsters?' The question is a hard one to answer, for there are so many good ones that a person is liable to become confused amid such a grand array, but there are three so nearly perfect that they are worthy of special mention. Singular to say, they are all by the same sire, Sir Modred, and for good looks can not be beat. The first is out of Rosie B., the dam of C. H. Todd and Sorrento, the second is a colt out of Carissima, the dam of Cruiser, and the third is out of Plaything, the dam of Tournament and Jon Jon. For individual choice these must be given the preference, but, as stated before, it was hard to make a critical selection owing to the hurried manner in which the colts had to be seen. The climatic influences are such that it is unnecessary to pay the same attention to faults that the eastern breeders have to do, and they are allowed to run at will, eating the rich and succulent grasses with which Rancho Del Paso abounds. Alfalfa plays an important part in the growth of the little ones, and Mr. Mackey is a firm believer in the theory that it beats all other kinds of green food in developing bone and muscle. Dr. Montsarrat had to acknowledge that he had never seen such forward foals in the blue grass region.

The large attendance that is sure to be present when the annual sale takes place will be more than surprised when they see the yearlings of 1890. The stallions are all looking in fine fettle, the two Australians, Sir Modred and Dabene especially so. The other thoroughbred stallions are Hidalgo, Joe Daniels, Midlothian, Ben Ali, Warwick, John Heppy, Tyrant, Kyrle Daly, and Hyder Ali. The brood mares are a superb lot and can not be equalled on any other stock farm in the country. Many Hamptons and Explosions are relegated to a paddock by themselves, while the others are in bands of eight or ten in each enclosure.

The trotting division is an equally choice lot and all of them look in the very pink of condition. The choice colt of the band is the one by Antevid, dam Marble, full sister to beautiful Belle. It was well said of this colt that he was no more to be compared to any ordinary horse than that a Umatilla reservation squaw should be compared to Mrs. Langtry. He is a model and should bring both dollars and fame to Mr. Haggin. This colt will be reserved for stock purposes and will not be one of the consignments sent east. There are many of the youngsters that should bring large prices, however, and the day is not far distant when Rancho Del Paso will be as well known for its trotters as it now is for the thoroughbreds raised there.

The Jack Pot Stake. The managers of the several race tracks are preparing for a grand campaign next spring. The "Jack Pot Stake," originated by Col. Clark, has struck the people as a very interesting if not unique institution. Lexington, Louisville and Latonia have joined hands in preparing the stake. Friendly enterprises of this kind are commendable, as they bring about good feeling among the racing associations and concentrate the interests of turfmen. The full conditions of the stake are as follows: The Kentucky Jack Pot Stake, for spring meetings of 1890, for three-year-olds and upward; $100 entrance, half forfeit, or only $50 if declared on or before April 15, 1890; money to accompany declarations, $1,000 added by the association to the stake run over its own track. The first race to be run one and one-eighth miles, and to be run over the course of the Kentucky association; the second race to be run one and one-quarter miles, and to be run over the course of the Louisville Jockey Club; the third race to be one and one-half miles, and to be run over the course of the Latonia Jockey Club. The horse winning any one of these stakes
